

What Have You Got to Lose?

Before

Ray Robbins is the first person to tell you he didn't think he'd be able to get to the size he wanted. "I was the most visible person in Mannatech—in more ways than one," he jokes. "And trying to slim down hadn't worked for me in the past . . . but I lost 10 inches from my waist!"^{†*}

Mannatech's OsoLean powder can help you lose fat when combined with a programme of reduced caloric intake and increased physical activity. This whey protein fat-loss powder is derived from naturally sourced ingredients and features an advanced peptide technology that helps promote fat loss while sparing lean muscle mass.[†]

[†] The OsoLean powder should be used in conjunction with a programme of reduced caloric intake and increased physical activity.

* Individual results may vary. Participants in a 12-week study conducted independently of Mannatech, Incorporated consumed a drink mix that contained the same peptide blend as OsoLean powder and also reduced their daily caloric intake by 500 calories. Participants experienced an average weight loss of 8.4 lbs/3.82 kg and an average waist circumference loss of 2.4 in/6.22 cm.

• Mr. Robbins is an independent Mannatech Associate and serves as a director on Mannatech's board.
