

They just ate their broccoli, kale and cauliflower. But don't tell them!

MannaBears™ are sweet and delicious, yet full of glyconutrients and antioxidants. Each yummy gummi is coated with a natural form of cane sugar but also delivers phytonutritional benefits from 11 fruits and vegetables. Getting the right nutrition in their growing bodies never tasted so awesome.

Here's what sets MannaBears apart. They:

- Provide nutritional goodness from 11 different dehydrated fruits and vegetables, including pomegranate, Brussels sprout, broccoli, cabbage, carrot, cauliflower, kale, tomato, turnip, papaya and pineapple.
- Contain our specially formulated, technologically advanced Ambrotose® complex, a key glyconutrient ingredient offered only by Mannatech.
- Deliver antioxidant support.*
- Offer a tasty alternative to today's refined sugars and other junk foods.
- Are designed specifically for children, whose nutritional needs are very different from those of adults.
- Contain natural flavors as well as xylitol, a low-glycemic natural sweetener.
- Are made from pectin—derived from various natural sources.
- Are colorful, chewy, taste terrific and—most important—kids love 'em! Adults love 'em, too!
