

OSP fuels my morning workout.

You've got things to do, schedules to coordinate, places to go. What you need is an advanced nutritional foundation that supports your active lifestyle. Filled with three of our core health products, our Optimal Support Packets provide a convenient way for you to keep healthy while going about your daily routine.

Whether you carry them in your purse, pocket or briefcase, each of these powerful packets contains:

- PhytoMatrix® caplets (2)—Nutrient-dense caplets contain food-sourced vitamins and phytonutrients from fruits and vegetables along with concentrated plant-sourced minerals derived from hydroponically grown Indian mustard sprouts. They support heart health, offer antioxidant and immune system support, and support the production of energy with B vitamins.*
- Ambrotose AO® capsule (1)—This synergistic blend of natural plant extracts like green tea and grape skin, plus a boost of vitamins C and E, provides powerful antioxidants and glyconutrients to support cellular health and help protect your body from the harmful effects of poor diet and daily physical stress.*
- PLUS™ caplets (2)—Balance your body with herbs and amino acids as well as standardized nutrients, like those found in wild yam root, to support your immune and endocrine systems as well as bone, breast, colon, prostate and cardiovascular health.*
